DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The amendment filed May 6, 2005 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: The new abstract states, "An insulating film is disposed on the wirings but is not disposed on the connection terminal lands" (emphasis added). This teaching is not disclosed in the originally filed specification or claims.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1, 2 and 10 – 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 1 and 10 require "...an insulating film disposed on the wirings but not disposed on the connection terminal lands. (emphasis added)" The originally filed specification and claims do not include support for this limitation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 7 – 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent Application Publication No. 2003/0155943 to Morishita.

Regarding claims 7 and 9, Morishita teaches an electronic device (Figs. 1 – 3) comprising:

a flexible printed circuit (paragraph [0006]);

a semiconductor chip (3) mounted on the flexible printed circuit;

a connection terminal portion comprising a plurality of connection terminal lands (8b) arranged on the flexible printed circuit in a grid configuration;

a plurality of wirings (8) connecting the respective connection terminal lands to the semiconductor chip;

an insulating film (7) disposed on the wirings; and an electronic part (LCD described in paragraph [0030]) connected to the connection terminal portion for receiving an output signal from the semiconductor chip through the connection terminal lands.

Regarding claim 8, Morishita teaches an electronic device, wherein the electronic part inherently comprises a plurality of terminals (the wires (4) must connect to terminals (See Fig. 8)) connected to the flexible printed circuit at positions opposed to positions at which the connection terminal lands are arranged.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed May 9, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Morishita does not teach terminal lands in a grid configuration since Morishita teaches a single column of terminal lands, as opposed to a network of columns and rows. A grid configuration does not require a network of columns and rows. One definition of a grid given by Grolier's online dictionary is "A framework of crisscrossed or parallel bars" (emphasis added). Morishita discloses a column of terminal lands that are arranged in a framework of parallel bars. Accordingly, it can be said that it is a grid configuration.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
